Rebeca is a Partner at Aziz & Kaye Business Law. Her practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions and corporate law. She is licensed to practice law in both Mexico and the State of California, United States.

Her experience includes domestic and cross-border transactions, including stock and asset acquisitions, joint ventures, and public and private financings. She also advises on the negotiation and structuring of commercial agreements, including those involving strategic alliances. In addition, she provides advice on privacy and personal data protection matters.

She regularly represents Mexican and foreign companies in their investment and expansion into Mexico, as well as in financing transactions involving Mexican borrowers or collateral located in Mexico.

She has experience in the structuring and formation of private equity funds and advises such funds throughout their investment and divestment processes. As part of her practice, she advises family-owned businesses on corporate governance structures, estate planning, and generational transition strategies.

She also devotes part of her practice to pro bono work, supporting nonprofit organizations in corporate restructurings, implementing corporate governance standards, and other corporate matters.

She participated in the structuring and placement of the instrument that preceded and originated the Development Capital Certificates (CKDs) in the Mexican market, as well as in the listing of the first publicly traded Investment Promotion Corporation (SAPIB) in Mexico.

She earned her law degree from Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM) and holds an LL.M. in Financial Law from Goethe University in Frankfurt, Germany. She is admitted to the State Bar of California.

She currently serves as President of the Board of Directors of the ExITAM Network of the San Francisco Bay Area and is a member of the La Raza Lawyers Association of San Francisco.
